

On June 2 of the current year, graduates of University of California, Berkley visited International Investors Association of Georgia who were interested in the business environment of Georgia. They do the research about economic and investment potential of Georgia. The guests were informed about the structure of International Investors Association and got acquainted with the activities of association member companies.